

ETHICS TO YOU TOO!<sup>TM</sup>pending [Blog#2]

One of the events celebrated this week is National Corporate Compliance & Ethics Week. Whether you are in corporate life or not, being compliant and choosing to be ethical is with us daily.

As a member of the International Coaching Federation and the Society of Corporate Compliance & Ethics, I would like to share with you this week a few anagrams I have written.

Ethics is not all about rules. If it were, no one could be ethical – because we are not perfect human beings. Rather, ethics is about values. . . what is important in our lives and how we want to live and work in our communities. As you read these anagrams, perhaps you can think about how you would handle yourself in the situation.

Ever

Think

How can I help you become less

Irritated because I choose not to Come over to your

Side of doing business?<sup>copyright</sup>

Express

The ways to

Hold your own

Individual point of view without

Constantly

Sounding superior.<sup>copyright</sup>

Have a great first full week in the month of May!

“Jo Ann” M. Radja, Career Management Coach & Change Agent